

Worker Overpayment

Overpayment

An overpayment is any payment of compensation that is more than the worker should have received under The Workers' Compensation Act, 2013 (The Act). An overpayment becomes a debt owed to the Saskatchewan Workers' Compensation Board (WCB).

Section 112(2) of The Act, says that the amount of any overpayment to a worker is a debt owing to the WCB and may be recovered from the worker or worker's dependant in any legal way.

Frequently asked questions

What if I cannot pay the full overpayment back within 30 days?

- If paying the full amount will cause financial difficulty, a repayment plan can be arranged within a reasonable time frame and must be paid on a regular basis.
- To arrange a payment plan, please contact the WCB Operations Department at 1.800.667.7590, to discuss this option.
- If payments become irregular or stop, a referral to the WCB Collections Department will be made.

How can I repay my overpayment?

There are three ways you can pay your overpayment:

1. In person by cash, debit card, credit card (Amex, Visa, or Mastercard) or cheque at the WCB offices in either of our Regina or Saskatoon locations.

Head Office (Regina)
200 – 1881 Scarth Street

Saskatoon Office
115 24th Street

2. By phone with a credit card (Amex, Visa, or Mastercard) by calling 306.787.0474 or toll free 1.800.667.7590 and speak to our Collections Department, or
3. Online banking by searching for the "Saskatchewan Workers' Compensation Board" as the payee. Where it asks for account number; this will be your claim number.

Note: Please check with your bank to see if the Saskatchewan Workers' Compensation Board is set up as a payee.
